My Dear Sir,

I was much pleased with your kind notice of the parcel by Dr. Gray for which I accept of my best thanks. The parcel for Dr. Secundus was handed to him when I went to dinner by Mr. Robert Gray who has resided in New York for several years but has returned from a visit to his relations here. He is an excellent young man and a situation as Tutor in one of your Colleges or Seminaries.

There as yet only got you one subscriber to your Flora of North America viz. Simon Feli.

I sent it to the celebrated ancient Feli and shall be glad to take another copy for myself. I will endeavour to get you other subscribers.

I paid a visit to my friends in Scotland lately and met an excellent friend of the lady Hooker.

I should like to hear from friends in Edinburgh.

If I could any possibly write to you by the same conveyance as I sent him this morning that I could send a letter tomorrow.
My friend Mr. Wickpatrick and family are all well. Fortunately for our late harvest the weather has been fine for the last three or four weeks, so the crops generally will succeed. The oat and potato crops are good—the wheat not so abundant.

I shall be most happy to hear from you at your earliest convenience from.

My Dear Sir,

Yours very sincerely,

J.T. Hickes.

The Steg goes by Royal Queen Mirror from Liverpool on the 20th inst. The largest ship of her class that has ever crossed the Atlantic. She came over here a few days ago on her first trip by way of Havre she since returned to Liverpool.
